3. [REDACTED] was the co-def. He has already pled his case out. As should she but her atty is a pain in the rump!

Janine-

I'm getting ready to send you the discovery materials and have a couple questions for you:

1. Am I correct to assume that I should send the info to the One Gleason Plaza address?
2. Although not mentioned, should I include a copy of my CV and appointment letter? (I'm not sure if you already have a copy or if the defense wants it or not)
3. Out of curiosity, is [REDACTED] the only defendant in the case? Just curious as the name on the results cards for these three submissions is [REDACTED] not [REDACTED] and I just wanted to check and make sure that the submission numbers are correct.

That's it. Depending on when I hear back from you, I'll either get it out to you this afternoon or tomorrow morning (most likely).

Sonja

Hi there,

I faxed you a letter to obtain discovery materials regarding testing materials and protocols for this case. Your lab numbers are: [REDACTED] We have a compliance date of 11/24. Do you think you can have the materials to me by then??

Thanks!
